Blessing of the Pets

Next Sunday at 11:30am

Outside the Main Doors of American Martyrs Church

Jesus said to the chief priests and elders of the people: "What is your opinion? A man had two sons. He came to the first and said, 'Son, go out and work in the vineyard today.' He said in reply, 'I will not,' but afterwards changed his mind and went. The man came to the other son and gave the same order.

He said in reply,
'Yes, sir, 'but did not go.

Jesus asked: "Which of the two did his father's will?" They answered, "The first."

American Martyrs Mission Statement

We, the diverse Catholic family of American Martyrs, are spiritually centered in the Word and the Eucharist. Our warm, welcoming community creates an atmosphere for a wonderful faith experience as we gather at the table of the Lord to help each other grow in Christ and live according to His teachings. Inspired by the faith and example of our patrons, the North Americans Martyrs, and the Blessed Mother, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, we work together to spread the message of Jesus to all.

American Martyrs Celebrates the Sacraments

Penance: Every Saturday at 4:00pm—4:45pm (Also at anytime convenient upon request)

Baptisms: The last Sunday of the month at 2:00 p.m., except during Lent and Christmas Seasons. Parents must speak to Deacon Stan and are required to attend an instruction class on the second to last Sunday at 11:30 a.m. in the Murray Center.

Sacrament of the Sick Anointing of the Sick: This sacrament is available for any baptized Catholic who is seriously ill or suffering the effects of advanced age. Please call the rectory to make an appointment for a priest to come to the home, or call anytime for a sudden illness. If serious surgery is scheduled, call to arrange for the anointing before you enter the hospital. A communal celebration of this sacrament is celebrated annually.

Pastoral Care to the Homebound: We are concerned about parishioners who are homebound and would like to receive the Eucharist, the Sacrament of Reconciliation or the Anointing of the Sick. If you are homebound, or if you know someone who is unable to come to Mass, please do not hesitate to contact the parish office at (718) 464-4582. Visits will be happily arranged for you.

Holy Matrimony: Call the Parish Office for information and appointment with a priest at least six months prior to the date you wish.

Be Vigilant of Child Abuse At All Times!

It is vitally important that we are constantly vigilant—that we always observe the behaviors of those who interact with children. And we must always communicate our concerns to the appropriate parties. Sometimes this means communicating our safety concerns to our children. And sometimes this means communicating our concerns about seemingly inappropriate behavior to those who are in a position to intervene. Parents must also listen carefully to their children and observe both their children's activities and the behavior of older children and adults who interact with them. When children exhibit dramatic behavioral changes, adults must find out what caused the changes. Being aware of what's happening with our children means talking to, listening to, and observing them-at every opportunity.

“He humbled Himself and became obedient...”

If the Lord invites you to follow Him in humble obedience as a priest or in the consecrated life, how will you respond? Contact the Vocation Office at 718-827-2454 or email: vocations@diobrook.org.

PRAY FOR OUR TROOPS

Rev. LT. Mark Bristol, USN
LCPL Christopher Keane - USMC
PO3 John Schaefer - USCG

PRAYER FOR OUR TROOPS

LORD, hold our troops in your loving hands.
Protect them as they protect us.
Bless them and their families for the selfless acts they perform for us in our time of need.
And give us peace.
We ask this in the name of Jesus,
Our Lord and Savior. Amen

If you know of any parishioner who is currently serving in the Armed forces and would like to be added to our prayer list, please call the Rectory. 718-464-4582.

Bit's and Pieces from Mike and Mike: "Building A House's Deck... ..One Nail at a Time!"

Dear People of God

Tommy, he's one of us!

Read and learn more... ..he's my brother Tommy and I come from a large Irish Catholic family of eight children: six brothers and two sisters. Tommy is the youngest and I place somewhere in the middle. We lived our early years in a very small town in western Pennsylvania. Our Dad had his own construction business, while Mom was busy maintaining the household. Grandma Mary Ellen, born in Ireland, was a true second mother.

In 1950, my brother, Robert, the eldest, was diagnosed with polio. In 1953, the new baby, Henry, was diagnosed with polio at 9 months. In May of 1954, Tommy was born. He had Downs Syndrome, but the doctors didn't tell our parents. Grandma knew as soon as she saw Tommy, but she said nothing because she feared for her daughter's health. Mom was already exhausted by the care of her older sons. Grandma assumed all the hands-on care of Tommy. Lovingly, she engaged the older children in this care. By 1955, however, Mom became concerned that Tommy's development wasn't age appropriate. A visit to a developmental specialist confirmed what Grandma had always known. About 1957, Mom and Grandma took Tommy to a "specialist." As I sat in the back seat of our car, Grandma held my sobbing mother in the front. Through her sobs, Mom gulped out, "I will not put him away. He is my son; he will remain at home where he belongs." I was only ten and didn't completely understand what they were saying, but the pain in my mother's voice seared the words in my memory.

Grandma continued to look after Tommy while Mom focused on Henry's physical rehabilitation. One by one, my older brothers headed to college. At twelve, I began to question my Mom about Tommy's differences. She said, "Because Tommy is so special, he will do great things in life." Some years later, my family suffered another heart-breaking blow. Our beloved Grandma passed away.

Shortly after, the younger siblings, including myself, went off to college. Mom's world became Tommy's world. At that time, education programs for persons with Downs Syndrome did not exist because these children were labeled "non-educable." Mom fought diligently with all levels of the educational establishment. Even as programs developed, they were structured as care-taking programs with no academic or skill building components. Educators told my mother, "Be happy your child is in a program." When Tommy was born, life expectancy for babies with Downs Syndrome was eight years. Tommy, however, was still celebrating birthdays in his 20s.

At that time, I was again living at home, teaching high school. Tommy's world and my world began to intertwine. My students volunteered to take Tommy and his friends bowling. Sharing time with Tommy and his friends brought questions about persons with developmental disabilities into my classrooms. Unable to answer many of their questions, I became engrossed in researching answers to their questions. But, very little information was available. So, I taught my students through narratives about Tommy's day to day life.

In 1985, following the death of Dad, Mom was encouraged to place Tommy in a community residential service. Setting out to help my mother, I ended up president of the board of directors for the agency which provided group home and workshop services for Tommy. I was far from happy with Tommy's situation. Yes, Tommy lived "in the community" but he was isolated from the community. Any community interaction Tommy experienced was provided by our family. I resigned my position and brought Tommy home. As she aged, Mom began to realize that Tommy would out-live her. To alleviate her anxiety, I promised Mom that I would care for Tommy.

I began a cross-country search for a facility, which would provide my brother with a safe environment coupled with appropriate learning experiences and good social interaction. I also wanted Tommy to live where families were expected to be involved with their family member and with his new home, a place where families were central to all decisions about their resident. Not until I visited Misericordia for the first time did I find what I was seeking. Tommy also was given the opportunity to spend a few days at Misericordia. It was his life and his decision. At the end of his visit, he announced: "pack my bags. I want to live here!" Tommy has called Misericordia "home" for 18 years.

A few weeks ago, I was picking Tommy up for a doctor's appointment. I became irritated with Tommy because he wasn't moving quickly and spoke rather sharply to him. A staff member took little time to say, "You must not speak to him like that. You are to treat him with respect and dignity!" The mission of care is a philosophy, which permeates every facet of Misericordia.

So, with this description of Tommy's family history, who is Tommy? He's the guy who gives hugs and flirts unashamedly with every woman he meets. He cherishes every new experience. Tommy stops in his tracks to dance in the snow and catch the snowflakes. Once, at Loyola, Tommy walked up to a man waiting to see the doctor. Before I could stop him, Tommy put his arms around the gentleman and said, "I love you." The man looked up at me and said, "I was wondering at this very moment whether anyone really loved me." Tommy loves to travel to Ireland, looks forward to sharing the holidays with his family, wears sunglasses to be Mister Cool, and will wear anything with the United States Navy logo to demonstrate his pride in his brother, Jerry, a Navy man.

Just as my mother promised, Tommy is doing "great things in life." He hugs the world. Best of all, he is my brother. By Maureen Maher

This Weekends Second Collection is for Hurricane and Wildfire Relief Aid

We have all seen the painful images of the devastating impact caused by Hurricane Laura and the California wildfires. Our hearts and prayers go out to all those affected by these terrible natural disasters, especially during this most difficult time. In an effort to give aid and support to those in need, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops have established an Emergency Disaster Fund. Bishop DiMarzio has ask that we take up a voluntary second collection this weekend.

The monies collected will be sent by our Diocese for distribution to respond to immediate emergency needs for such necessities as water, food, shelter, and medical care, and aid in long-term rebuilding and recovery efforts.

American Martyrs in House Comedians

Floater: 5 out of 3 people struggle with math
Smitty: Never use a GPS when going to a cemetery. Not nice to hear "You've reached your destination."
Floater: I just ate what I thought was a feta cheese crumble from my salad off my shirt. Turns out it was deodorant. So, how's your day going?
Smitty: I can't decide which pants to put on today. Smarty or Fancy?
Floater: Broke a finger at work yesterday. On the other hand, everything's okay.
Smitty: I wonder if the guy who coined the term "One Hit Wonder" came up with any other phrases?
Floater: It takes real skills to choke on air, fall up the stairs and trip over nothing. I have those skills
Smitty: Crashed my pick-up today. I told the police the man I collided with was on his cell phone and drinking a can of beer! Officer said he can do what he likes in his own living room!
Floater: I've learned so much from my mistakes, I'm thinking of making a few more.
Smitty: I went to the Doctor with a hearing problem. He said: "Can you describe the symptoms?" I said "Homer's a fat dude and Marge has blue hair."

Thank you for your support of American Martyrs Church.

From the Desk of Fr. George Cowan

To each of you who have made American Martyrs a home for me.

By now you might have heard that I'm not able to return to your Church soon. My health has gotten worse.

The cardiologist has warned me to stop all extra work that I have been doing. So after speaking to Fr. Peter Rayder I have come to the conclusion, that I will stop as of now. Fr. Peter told me to feel free to return if I'm feeling better in the future. He couldn't have been nicer to me. Fr. Peter made me feel that I was truly wanted. But that is the way you all have made me feel each and every Sunday.

Yes, I will miss you! Each week I will continue to pray for you when I celebrate Mass. What I ask of you—please, pray for me. You are in my thoughts, love and prayers.

Again thank you for making me feel "at home" in American Martyrs

Sit

"Why are you sitting around doing nothing?" the owner of the vineyard says to the day laborers in Jesus's parable. It's a question—and maybe a bit of an accusation—we can sometimes toss at each other in our families. In fact, it happens. We can sit around and do nothing. But there is another side to sitting.

"Sit up and pay attention. This is really important." We've heard that too. Sitting can mean receiving a message, learning something of value, or letting ourselves be affected by what we see and hear. That's the sitting that goes on at Mass.

We do sit at Mass, and we are ready to be touched by the Word of God. If we sit up and pay attention, how can we not be affected by the message? You are forgiven. You are loved. You have great gifts and responsibilities. You are connected to each other. You are the object of God's hope.
